The Daily Gazetteer.

Numb. 1486

TUESDAY, MARCH 25. 1740.

No 1404.

ON the 29th of January last, there was a Paper publiſhed in the Gazetteer, wherein the Character, Principles, Morals, and Religion, of the Fellow that writes the Journal call'd Common Senſe, were very fully and circumſtantially ſet forth; to which he has not, in all this Time, thought fit to give one Word of Anſwer; but, on the contrary, has very prudently declin'd entering into a Controverſy, which he is conſcious to himſelf muſt, if he had engag'd in it, have made him appear to be the moſt infamous Miſcreant that ever took upon him the Office of an Intendiary, a Spy, or an Aſſaſſin; and it muſt be a great Pleaſure to all honeſt and well-meaning Perſons, who without entering into the Diſputes of Parties, or the Contentions of Great Men for Power, have nothing at Heart but the true Intereſt of their Country, to find ſo impudent and execrable an Impoſtor unmask'd, and expos'd in his own proper Colours, to the View of the whole World; an Impoſtor that had ſet himſelf up for an Advocate for the People, and had pretended great Zeal and Devotion for the Liberties of our Country, while he was himſelf all the while an IRISH PAPIST, and an Emiſſary of Rome and the Pretender. This ſeaſonable and uſeful Diſcovery has had its Effect; for the Writer being known, the Paper is univerſally abhorr'd and rejected. And indeed who, without the higheſt Indignation, could take into his Hands a Paper, writ by an IRISH PAPIST, in Defence of Liberty, and upon the Principles of the Revolution?

But notwithſtanding this Fellow's Principles and Practices have been ſo fully laid open, and ſo publickly made known, and that he ſtands in the Face of the whole World ſelf-convicted and ſelf-condemn'd, he has the Impudence ſtill to go on, in his old Way, of abuſing the Government, the Parliament, and all thoſe that have any Share in the Adminiſtration of Publick Affairs.

And as it is now near two Months ago ſince the true Effigie of this Iriſh Popiſh Scribbler was hung out for the View of the Publick, and no Notice taken of him ſince in this Paper, he flatters himſelf that all the Facts charged upon him, reſt in Silence and are forgot; and, like a Thief when the Hue and Cry is over, he begins now to peep abroad again, boaſts of the good Reception his Paper has had among Perſons of the beſt Taſte in the Kingdom, of the great Service it has done the Nation; and pretends to value himſelf much upon what he calls the Abuſe it has met with by thoſe, whom he is pleaſed to ſay have pleaded openly for Slavery and Oppreſſion.

Now, if Perſons of the beſt Taſte in the Kingdom have approved his Paper, what Sort of People muſt he make this Nation to be compoſ'd of? Why, moſt certainly, Savages as wild, as ſtupid, and as ignorant, as the Hottentots at the Cape of Good Hope, or the Rapparees that trot over the Bogs of Tipperary; for it is utterly impoſſible that any one Man of Common Senſe in a Civiliz'd Nation, can read ſuch Stuff as this Fellow Weekly peſters the Publick with, without being, in the higheſt Degree, nauſeated with it; nothing but a Stomach that is uſed to feed only on Garbage and Raw Fleſh can digeſt it.

As to the Service which he ſays his Paper has done the Publick, I admit that it has done great Service to the Publick; becauſe it has been the Means of opening the Eyes of many well-meaning People, who can now plainly ſee the true Drift and Deſign of the preſent Oppoſition to the Miniſtry, by knowing what Sort of Fellows are engaged in it; and it cannot fail of giving all thoſe that wiſh well to their Country, a very high Idea of this Tribe of Pretended Patriots, when they know that all theſe mighty Advocates for Liberty chiefly conſiſt of the very Scum and Refuſe of all Nations, Profeſſions, and Religions; Fellows that have beggar'd themſelves by their Debaucheries in their Youth, and are obliged to turn Hackney Writers to ſupport themſelves in their Age; Libertines, Atheiſts, Scotch Preſbyterian Jacobites, Romiſh Prieſts, and Iriſh Papiſts!

But this Writer of Common Senſe, it ſeems, values himſelf moſt of all upon the Abuſe which he pretends his Paper has met with, and which he boaſts will redound to its Immortal Honour, becauſe, he ſays, it has been from thoſe that have pleaded openly for Slavery and Oppreſſion.

If the Fellow means by Abuſe, the juſt Chaſtiſement he has received from any Writer in this Paper, for his Impudence, his Folly, his Impoſtures, and the various Maſks and Diſguiſes he has put on, to cheat and impoſe upon the Publick, he is certainly right; for it is very true, that he has received more Correction (which he very improperly calls Abuſe) than any other Scribbler of the Times, becauſe he has more richly deſerved it. And I own it is an Honour for him to be taken Notice of in any Way as a Writer, who, if he had his Deſerts, ought to be taken Notice of in no way but as a Criminal, by the common Executioners of Juſtice. But whom he means by thoſe that have pleaded openly for Slavery and Oppreſſion, it is impoſſible to underſtand, without he means himſelf, when he wrote Miſt's and Fog's Journals.

But notwithſtanding all his Bluſtering and Vapouring, it is eaſy to ſee that he feels the Hook in his Mouth, and wants to get rid of it at any Rate. He is afraid to come to a cloſe Engagement, and fairly to enter into the Merits of his Principles and Character; and therefore he endeavours to joke away (but very clumſily and very impudently) the Charge that has been exhibited againſt him in this Paper. He does not venture to mention any one Fact concerning himſelf, or to enter into any Kind of Defence of his own Character, becauſe he has learnt ſo much Senſe at leaſt, as to know that Facts are ſtubborn Things, and can only be encounter'd by Facts; and, conſequently, that they are Weapons too unwieldy for him to handle, and which if he offer'd to make uſe of, he would be ſure to be foil'd at; and therefore he very prudently contents himſelf with giving only diſtant Hints, and making remote Alluſions to what relates to himſelf, puts on an awkward Air of Gaiety, and then calls the being accuſed, in very plain and intelligible Terms, of being an IRISH PAPIST, of being the Writer of Miſt's and FOG's Journals, of aſſerting an impudent notorious Falſhood in Print, and other Matters, which will be ſumm'd up together in a proper Set of Queries at the End of this Paper, I ſay, he calls this plain, direct, ſhort Charge, an Endeavour to frighten him with hard Words, and to overpower him with the ſuperior Force of Noiſe and Bluſter; and then triumphing as if he had gain'd a conſiderable Victory, and acquitted himſelf to the Satisfaction of the World, he has the Impudence to imagine that he can ſo far impoſe upon the common Senſe of Mankind, as to turn the moſt known Truths, and Facts which ſtand uncontroverted and unimpeach'd, into Ridicule, by forging a ſilly, ſcandalous, and infamous Letter to himſelf, which he ſubſcribes Piſtol, and which he fancies, no doubt, has a great deal of Humour in it, but which, in Truth, is ſuch a Heap of low Traſh and Ribaldry, that if he had ſet up the wild Iriſh Howl, it would have been full as much to his Purpoſe, and perhaps a more intelligible and leſs diſagreeable Piece of Noiſe and Jargon. One thing only I can't help taking notice of in it, and that is, that in order to make it be thought that he is a Perſon of great Importance, he repreſents himſelf as having Applications made to him to write for the Miniſtry, with Offers of great Rewards for engaging his Pen in their Service; the direct Contrary of which, as I am told, is true; for, if I am rightly inform'd, this infamous Tool of Jacobitiſm, this vile Incendiary, this IRISH PAPIST, this Author of Miſt's Journal, Fog's Journal, and Common ſenſe, has had the conſummate Impudence to offer his Services to write for the Miniſtry; but was very wiſely rejected with that proper Reſentment and Indignation, which would naturally ariſe in the Breaſt of ever Man of common Senſe and common Honeſty upon ſuch an Occaſion. But the Patriots have got him, and his Pen no doubt will redound highly to the Honour and Intereſt of their Cauſe.

But that this Fellow may not think to amuſe the World, and draw off their Attention from the Charge againſt himſelf, by being very impudent and very ſcurrilous to others, I ſhall again inſert the Queries which were formerly publiſhed in this Paper, with the Addition of one or two more, that his Character and Principles may be ſeen at one View, and drawn together within ſuch a Compaſs, that whenever this infamous Scribbler pretends to take upon him to be an Advocate for the People of England in general, or for the City of London in particular, or to declaim in Favour of Liberty, or abuſe the Acts of the Legiſlature, or affront the Sacred Perſon of his Majeſty, or revile the Meaſures of his Miniſters, every one may remember, that the Perſon who preſumes to do all this, is an IRISH PAPIST, one of the Spawn of that execrable Crew who perpetrated that horrid, and it is to be hoped never to be forgotten, Maſſacre in Ireland, and murthered ſo many thouſand Proteſtants, Men, Women and Children, in cold Blood!

Queries for the Conſideration of the Author of the Paper called Common-Senſe.

1. Whether the Author of the Paper called Common Senſe is not an IRISH PAPIST?

2. Whether he was not the Author of Miſt's Journal?

3. Whether he was not the Author of Fog's Journal?

4. Whether, tho' he was the Author of both thoſe Journals, he did not expreſsly aſſert in the firſt Paper that he publiſh'd under the Title of Common-Senſe, that He never appear'd in Print before?

5 Whether he is not a Common, Mercenary, Hackney Scribbler, who writes for Bread? and, Whether he has or ever had a Shilling in his Life, but what he got by carrying on that infamous Trade?

6. Whether he never did make any Application of any Kind or Nature whatever, to any Perſon or Perſons whatever, to write for the Miniſtry?

7. Whether he never did, upon any Occaſion, apply for any Favour whatever, by Letter or otherwiſe, to any Perſon of Diſtinction in the M——y, even after he had moſt groſly and infamouſly abus'd that very Perſon in Print?

8. Whether ſuch a Fellow as this, who is capable of acting ſo ſcandalous and execrable a Part as this, and who writes at one time Jacobite Libels, and expreſly in Favour of the Pretender, and at other times pretends to write upon the Principles of Liberty and the Revolution, according to the different Situation and Circumſtances of Affairs, muſt not be a moſt infamous Cheat and Impoſtor? and, Whether he can be conſidered in any other Light than as a Spy, and an Aſſaſſin?

9. If all theſe things are true of this Man, and he does not give a clear, full, and ſatisfactory Anſwer, to every Query here put to him, what Puniſhment in the Judgment of all impartial Men, muſt ſuch a Miſcreant deſerve?

Fitted as well for the Use of Schools, as for Private Families,
ÆSOP's FABLES: With Instructive Morals and Reflections, abstracted from all Party Considerations, adapted to all Capacities; and design'd to promote Religion, Morality, and Universal Benevolence.

Containing 240 FABLES, with a Cut engrav'd on Copper to each Fable. And the Life of Æsop prefixed.

The only short and infallible Cure for that reigning Disease the SCURVY, and all Scorbutick Humours, tho' arrived to the highest and most inveterate Degree, or of ever so many Years standing, and that without any sensible Evacuation or the least Purging, which by an unaccountable Mistake is generally advised, although always found rather to increase and confirm the Scurvy than cure it.

By the so much famed and most pleasant Chymical DROPS:

WHICH, without the least Trouble, Confinement, or any Disorder whatever, do at once strike at the true Cause of the Scurvy, and intirely destroy it, and all Scorbutick Humours and Effects, Root and Branch, so as never to return again, as many Thousands of both Sexes have experienced, and as all who take them, in 3 Days time will be convinced; for they almost instantly alter the morbid State of the Juices, purify the Blood, sweeten all the Fluids, cleanse them from Impurities, and directly clear the whole Habit from all Spots, Blotches, black and blue Marks, Itchings, foul Eruptions, or Breakings out, Weariness of the Limbs, languid Heaviness of the whole Body, wandering Pains, Weakness of the Back, and all the vast Variety of Symptoms by which the Scurvy imitates and often lies concealed under the Appearance of the Rheumatism, and many other Distempers.

And for strengthening the Stomach, immediately creating a good Appetite, causing a regular and easy Digestion of Food, and curing all windy Effects and Disorders of the first Passages (whence proceed Head-achs, Vapours and other Indispositions) no Bitters nor any other Medicine upon Earth can compare with them, insomuch that besides infallibly curing the Scurvy in all its Shapes and Appearances, they also assuredly and immediately cure the Green-sickness in Virgins, Worms of all Kinds in young or old, and almost all other Chronick Diseases, (which are chiefly occationed by Indigestion and flatulent Crudities in the Stomach and Bowels) and certainly prevent Fevers, Agues, and other acute Illnesses.

They are wonderfully Cordial and Restorative, strengthen and enliven the whole Machine, and soon as taken, make the Patient pleasantly Lightsom, Brisk and Vigorous to admiration, and are good for all Sorts of Persons, to preserve as well as to procure a sound and healthy State of Body.

But the great Reputation these so much fam'd and pleasant Chymical Drops have so universally gain'd among Persons of Eminence, for their suddenly and infallibly curing the Scurvy and all Scorbutick Humours, and other Chronick Diseases, in such an easy and agreeable Manner, have occasioned many to imitate them, some under the same, and others under other Names: Be careful therefore not to be deceiv'd; but be sure to have the Right, which by the Author's special Appointment, are to be had only at the Gentlewoman's, at the Two Blue Posts, in Haydon-Yard, in the Minories, at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions.
